Enjoy some of Scotland's renowned whiskies in award-winning bars and expert-led whisky tasting sessions, or even become part of the whisky-making process itself.

Savour Scotland's famous whisky in award-winning bars and enjoy expert advice from the passionate bar tenders or try your favourite dram with a modern twist in a unique whisky cocktail.

Visit Glasgow's iconic whisky bar The Pot Still with its history of great drams which spans 30 years. You will discover some remarkable malts as the bar is stocked with over 300 different whiskies, some of which are only available in this bar.

Edinburgh is home to the aptly-named premier whisky bar Whiski which is home to an outstanding collection of over 270 malts. Whiski was named Whisky Bar of the Year 2011 in the prestigious Dram Awards and boasts bottles from distilleries that are no longer in operation alongside many other rare malts, including the cult Black Bowmore, a sample of which is only available by special request.

Head to Whiski's sister venue Whiski Rooms on the Mound in Edinburgh to expand your whisky knowledge with a dedicated tasting session run by experts. Or for a new twist, try one of the bar's delectable whisky cocktails such as a traditional Whisky Sour or the bar's unique Islay in the Sun.

Become part of the whisky-making process at Edinburgh's unique attraction The Scotch Whisky Experience as you take a barrel ride through a replica distillery on their fascinating tour. After learning all the secrets behind whisky creation, enjoy a tasting session with one of the expert tour guides before looking around the world's largest collection of Scotch whisky whilst enjoying your complimentary dram.
